

Getman Announces Changes to Product Management and Aftermarket Departments

Bangor, MI, USA – January 4, 2017 - Getman Corporation is pleased to announce a change to our Product Management team. David Lehane, previously Director of Aftermarket, will assume leadership of the Product Management Department as Director. David has a deep understanding of the mining equipment industry and the Getman product portfolio as well as success leading both business development and aftermarket departments. David will work with Greg Lockhart and the Product Management team to best align our product offering with the changing needs of our customers.

As of January 4, Zsolt Kovacs joins Getman as Director of Aftermarket. Zsolt brings a history of success in the mining equipment industry including experience with Caterpillar, Joy Global and Sandvik. He will focus on ensuring the Getman and Sandvik relationship results in world class product service and support for our customers around the world.

We look forward to these changes resulting in meaningful product and support improvement for our customers and dealers as we more fully live our mission; we help miners work safely and productively through customer inspired solutions and support.
